NOTES FOR MAINTENANCE RESPONSIBILITY CHART

NOTE 1: "All Aspects" includes maintenance repair, and replacement, as needed.

NOTE 2: Components are applicable only if they exist, and may not be construed to create a requirement or an authorization for such a component. A skylight is an example of a component that may or may not be on a building.

NOTE 3: This chart's assignment of maintenance to an owner is not authorization for the owner to change the appearance of the component for which owner has maintenance responsibility. This chart may not be used to evade the requirement of obtaining architectural approval.

NOTE 4: The foregoing assignments may be modified by written agreement between the Association and an owner, such as when architectural approval is granted contingent on the owner's assumption of maintenance responsibility for the modification. The agreement may be in the form of a publicly recorded covenant agreement.

NOTE 5: This chart's assignment of maintenance to the Association is predicated on the component being original to the Property, or an authorized replacement thereof, or a component that was installed by the Association or with the approval of the Association. This chart may not be used to compel the Association to maintain a component installed by an owner without the Association's approval, or a component approved subject to the owner assuming maintenance responsibility.

NOTE 6: If an owner fails or refuses to perform necessary maintenance, repair, or replacement, the Association may perform the work after giving required notices to the owner.

NOTE 7: The Association's maintenance obligations will be discharged when and how the board, in its sole discretion, deems appropriate.

- (1) To identify a component that is omitted from the chart.
- (2) To clarify a vague or ambiguous Note or description of a component or maintenance obligation.
- (3) To shift maintenance responsibility from the owner to the Association.

NOTE 9: All other changes to this Chart, such as shifting maintenance From the Association to the owner, must be approved by owners representing at least a majority of the townhomes in the Property and recorded In the Real Property Records of Harris County and Fort Bend County, Texas.
