Memorial Park

Memorial Park is one of Houston's largest and most popular urban green spaces, spanning approximately 1,500 acres. Located just west of downtown, it offers a mix of natural beauty, extensive recreational facilities, and cultural significance. The park features miles of running and biking trails, including the famous Seymour Lieberman Trail, sports fields, golf courses, and the Eastern Glades, a scenic conservation area with boardwalks and native landscaping.

Memorial Park honors fallen soldiers and has undergone significant renovations to enhance its amenities while preserving its natural habitat. It serves as a major hub for outdoor enthusiasts, fitness lovers, and families, with ongoing development projects aimed at making it one of the top urban parks in the U.S.
