

a note from the seller...

When we first discovered this home, we knew immediately it was the perfect fit for our lifestyle. The open floor plan, tall ceilings, and the rare convenience of each bedroom having its own private bathroom made every day feel both comfortable and elevated. As people who love spending time in the kitchen experimenting with different cuisines, this home became our favorite place to gather, create, and share meals together.

What we've loved most isn't just the home itself, but the community around it. Living in a quiet, gated neighborhood with friendly neighbors, beautifully maintained landscaping, and the comfort of safety has given us peace of mind from day one. The location has been a true gift – minutes from grocery stores, shopping, great restaurants, and top-rated schools, all while still feeling tucked away and calm. We've also enjoyed spending time at nearby favorites like CityCentre and Memorial City Mall, where we could relax, shop, and meet friends.

We are relocating to Japan and while we are excited for this next chapter, leaving this home and community is bittersweet. It has been a place full of convenience, comfort, and belonging, and we hope you will feel just as welcomed, supported, and at ease here as we have.
