DWV Drain Repair	$1,087.97	1	$1,087.97
------------------	------------	---	------------

Repaired three separate areas that were leaking or cracked on DWV (drain, waste, and vent) lines. Lines were in the first-floor ceiling, which was already exposed. We were referred by R&R (Restoration and Remediation). The customer had mold due to drain pipes having leaked over a long period of time. Leaks were due to bad repairs and/or improper glue joints.

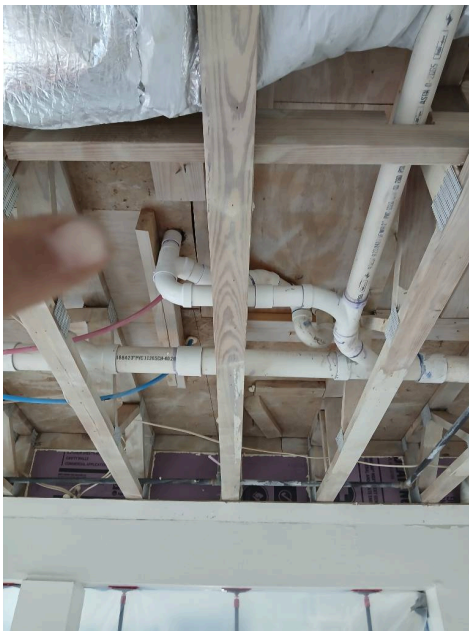

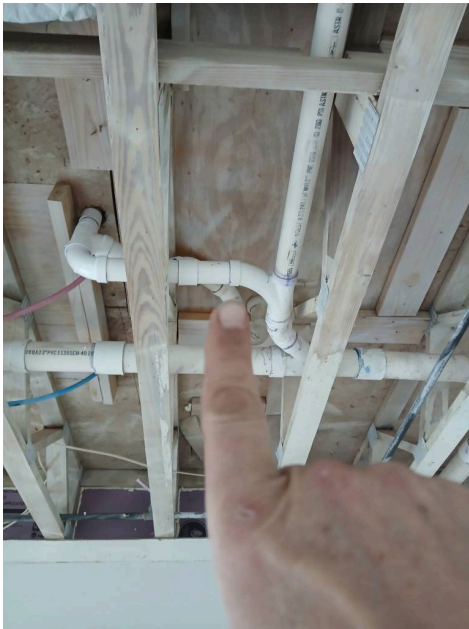

We repaired the initial section. In doing so, we noticed another issue where it seemed the pipe had separated from the fitting hub due to an improper glue joint. It looked like the former "plumber" had possibly premixed the glue and primer, or that the primer may have had water in it. Those would cause the glue to not properly weld the pipe to the fitting hub. We inspected the other exposed DWV fittings.
