Important property note

The property was never really lived in as a normal occupied home. The previous owner used it more like a storage space for collections and kept it closed most of the time, so many of the plumbing areas were not used in the same way as a regular occupied property.

Current status

The home is being finalized and is expected to be fully completed by May 22, 2026. While final details are being completed, workers or contractors may still be on site. Current listing images may include renders; once the property is fully finished, new professional photos will be taken and the renders will be replaced with real photos of the completed home.
