Tucked on a quiet cul-de-sac street with no back neighbors, this 1.5-story brick and stone home offers the space, privacy, and layout buyers are asking for. Inside, the split floor plan is anchored by an open living area with high ceilings, wood shutters, built-in speakers, and a wood-burning fireplace with gas start. The island kitchen features stainless steel appliances, a butler's pantry, and connects easily to both the formal dining and main living spaces, making it ideal for hosting.

A dedicated study provides a separate work space, while the game room and media room give you flexibility for everyday living or entertaining. Natural light carries throughout the home, adding to the clean, well-kept feel. Two garage bays and an oversized driveway allow for plenty of parking. Zoned to Tomball ISD and positioned for those who want a quieter setting without giving up convenience.
