

a note from the seller..

When we first walked into 118 Reinerman Street, we immediately knew it was something special. Tucked away on a corner lot with unobstructed downtown skyline views, the home offered a rare sense of privacy and connection to the city all at once. It became our peaceful retreat while still being only minutes from everything Houston has to offer.

We fell in love with the soaring ceilings, real Italian oak wood floors, and the beautiful kitchen outfitted with Thermador appliances and a wine fridge – perfect for hosting family and friends. Our favorite moments have been spent on the rooftop terrace, where we even got engaged, and gathering loved ones for holidays and celebrations in the warm, inviting spaces throughout the home.

This neighborhood, Rice Military, has been a wonderful place to call home. The friendly neighbors, active community events, and access to parks like Buffalo Bayou and Memorial Park have made everyday life here truly special. We've also appreciated the safety, strong sense of community, and the freedom of living in an area without an HOA.

As original owners, we've thoughtfully updated the home with custom roman and motorized shades, new lighting, and elegant mirrors to make it even more comfortable and stylish. We hope you find as much joy, peace, and pride living here as we have. Though we are relocating to Florida for a new chapter by the beach, this home – and the memories we made here – will always hold a special place in our hearts.

We're so excited for the next chapter of this home's story, and we hope you love it as much as we have.

Jennifer Gordon