

a note from the seller...

We bought this home in 2016 and had no idea how much life we would pack into these walls.

We brought two babies home here. We watched first steps, celebrated first birthdays, and spent countless evenings walking the neighborhood just to wind down after a long day. The neighbors on both sides became some of our favorite people. The front yard became our little oasis, a place where the kids could play while we soaked in everything we loved about living in the middle of this city.

We didn't leave because we wanted to. We left because our family grew, and with it came the next chapter; one that called us somewhere new. Leaving this home was not easy.

We took care of this place the way you take care of something that matters to you. Every update, every repair, we didn't cut corners. Because to us, it was never just a house.

We hope it becomes everything for you that it was for us.
